2 Fees

2.1 Our fees are computed on the basis of time spent on your affairs by the partners and our staff, and on the level of skill and responsibility involved. Unless otherwise agreed, our fees will be charged separately for each of the main classes of work described above, will be billed at appropriate intervals during the year, and will be due within 30 days of invoice date.

It is our normal practice to request monthly payments on account of our work, such payments due within 30 days of the request or lesser period if specified, and to be offset against bills raised once work has been completed.

Should the client be a Company, if it be unable to pay our fees, then the fees will be payable personally by the Director signing this letter of engagement. For this reason the individual Director signing this letter of engagement will agree to guarantee the fees in his/her personal capacity.

2.2 All losses, costs and disbursements incurred by us through late payment will, in all cases, be charged back to the client. Should you fail to pay our fees within 30 days of the date of the invoice/request for payment on account, we reserve the right to charge interest at 8% above the Bank of England base rate as prescribed under the Late Payment of Commercial Debts Regulations 2002 and the Late Payment of Commercial Debts (Interest) Act 1998; and compensation/debt collection costs as prescribed under the Late Payment of Commercial Debts Regulations 2002 based upon the amount outstanding; and suspend or terminate (see below) the services and any work which we are carrying out for you and take whatever legal steps we consider necessary in order to obtain payment.

If you consider our bill is unfair and/or excessive you have the right to raise your objections in writing, within 30 days of the date of the bill. Following a written objection we would investigate the complaint. If we then reduce the sum billed, the reduced amount will become payable on the latter of either the date of the reduction, or 30 days from the date of the original bill.

2.3 If it becomes necessary for us to withdraw from the engagement for any reason, our fees for work performed up to that date will be payable. We reserve the right to retain a lien over any client documents provided until such time as our outstanding fees and disbursements have been paid in full.
